

The Career Management Center (CMC) looks forward to working with you for all of your hiring needs. Columbia Business School's recruiting policies strive to provide a fair recruiting process for both employers and students and they apply to all employers that engage with the School regardless of whether recruiting takes place on or off campus or virtually. This applies to all employers that post jobs and/or engage with student clubs, programs, and centers. Failure to abide by these policies may necessitate sanctions for the violating employer. The full recruiting policies can be found on our website at Recruit at CBS.

Academic Commitments

Students may not miss class, an exam, or academic commitments for interviews, recruiting events, or travel related to those activities. An employer's inflexibility on this issue will be considered a violation of the School's recruiting policy.

Diversity Hiring

Columbia Business School is a proud member of the Consortium as the 21st member school. Please contact the CMC if you would like to discuss your diversity hiring strategy, including for pre-MBA programs. The CMC partners with student affinity clubs such as Black Business Students Association (BBSA), Hispanic Business Association (HBA), Cluster Q (LGBTQ+), Veterans Club and Columbia Women in Business (CWIB). We also have relationships with diversity partner organizations such as Management Leadership for Tomorrow (MLT), Toigo, Forté Foundation, and Reaching Out.

While the CMC encourages diversity candidates to engage in early education and networking, students should be given the opportunity to interview along with their peers during the academic year campus timeline. Once a student matriculates at CBS, neither interviews nor offers, including fellowship offers, may be made prior to the earliest permitted offer date.

International Employers

Global offices of U.S. domestic firms, as well as all international companies, will be held to the same recruiter policies and timeline as U.S. employers, unless pre-approved by the CMC.

We encourage employers to be flexible when offering students the opportunity to engage in coffee chats.

Additional Information

Different divisions (e.g., investment banking vs. asset management) or geographic offices within a company may qualify as separate entities for the purpose of this policy, and firms must receive prior approval from the CMC before planning an event.
